NEWS in BRIEF

BERLIN (UPI)—The United States today ordered three more military convoys into West Berlin through the Soviet zone to demonstrate Western rights of access to the divided city.

An Army spokesman said the first convoy of 40 soldiers, one Jeep and four trucks arrived here without incident after a 110-mile trip from Helmstedt. Two others the same size were due later today.

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—A British Royal Air Force jet bomber crashed in flames on a busy highway today, narrowly missing Omaha-bound cars.

The plane skidded across the highway and burst into a wall of flame, but all six Royal Air Force men escaped with minor injuries. Five of the British airmen walked away from the wreckage. The sixth suffered a broken leg.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The City of Los Angeles was bulging with pride and population today after it was estimated 61,000 new residents moved here, the country's third largest city, since the official census in 1950.

The Los Angeles population is now 2,540,000.

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie, a two-term Democrat from Antioch, today was appointed majority floor leader of the California Assembly.

The appointment was announced by speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles. Waldie replaces William A. Munnell of Montebello, selected earlier this week as a Superior Court judge in Los Angeles.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A cloud of radioactive debris from Russia's 30-megaton-plus nuclear explosion drifted over the Gulf of Alaska early today and into Canada.

Weather Bureau scientist Robert List said the cloud would drift over Canada for at least the next 24 hours.

HAKONE, Japan (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today bluntly told Japan's leading economic officials that their country must play a bigger role in aiding underdeveloped countries.

Rusk went into the aid question during the afternoon session of the second day of the three-day cabinet level Japan-U.S. joint economic conference here.

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret, Britain's 31-year-old "little sister," safely gave birth today to her first child—a healthy son—at the Clarence House residence of Queen Mother Elizabeth.

The baby will be known as Viscount Linley and automatically becomes fifth in line to the British throne.

An official Clarence House announcement tacked on the gate of the residence shortly before noon proclaimed to happy Britons:

"Her Royal Highness the Princess Margaret, Countess of Snowdon, was safely delivered of a son at 10:45 a.m. today.

Killer Storm of Far North Moves

By United Press International

The season's first major cold wave, spawned in the far north, knifed deep into the midlands today. Residents braced for possible sub-zero temperatures and heavy snow.

The killer storm already had claimed a number of lives, including five in the Colorado-Wyoming areas which got an unwelcome preview of the mighty arctic front Thursday.

The clash of the cold front with tropical air from the Gulf of Mexico touched off tornadoes in the Southwest and flooding in Kansas and Nebraska. Elsewhere, it produced strong southerly winds which brought record high temperatures to Chicago, Indianapolis, Nashville and other midwestern cities.

Winds of up to 60 miles an hour were reported as the near-blizzard storm howled eastward across the plains states Thursday night and early today. In their wake, they left mountain communities paralyzed by snowfalls of up to 16 inches.

Montana was the first state hit as the storm blasted in from Canada Thursday. The mercury plummeted 45 degrees in parts of the state, dropping to 10 below zero at Drummond, Mont.

Then it moved southward into Wyoming, New Mexico and Colorado and eastward through the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin.

The first snow of the season, some of the flakes the size of a half-dollar, fell in the Texas Panhandle.

Storm Heads Eastward
The twisters struck at Pleasant Hill, La., Grandview, Tex., Parks, Ark., and Cherokee, Kan., but no fatalities were reported.

The weatherman said the fast-moving storm would spread eastward and southward today. The front fringes were expected to move into Louisiana, Kentucky and Ohio.

The Weather Bureau predicted a hard freeze as far southeast as the Ohio River and as far south as Oklahoma. The mercury was slated to drop as low as 10 to 20 in Wisconsin and in the 20s as far south as central Illinois by Saturday morning.

UAW and Chrysler Dispute Over
DETROIT (UPI)—Technicians of the United Auto Workers Union and Chrysler Corp. today polished final language of a master contract reached an hour before a strike deadline Thursday midnight.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Chrysler Vice President John D. Leary said the three-year national contract for 60,000 workers is similar to new pacts at General Motors and Ford which provide moderate wage increases but greatly improved fringe benefits.

The agreement is expected to be signed early today.

One Major Departure
In the only major departure from the industry pattern, Reuther said, the Chrysler contract was designed to "meet the problem of extremely high unemployment" at the firm. He said the contract "provides for a special reserve fund to insure SUB benefits to laid off workers and workers on short work weeks."

Details were not revealed pending a meeting of the UAW national Chrysler conference on Monday. The 150 member conference will have to pass on the contract. There were signs of possible opposition to one feature of it.

This is a union proposal covering the firm's unemployment compensation (SUB) plan. It is believed to call for a diversion of five cents an hour from worker wage increases over three years into the SUB "reserve fund."

Possible Dissatisfaction
The regular SUB fund at Chrysler, whose car production is off 46 per cent, is down to 28 per cent of what it should be. Worker contributions reportedly would be used to beef up the fund, something which might cause dissatisfaction.

There was no immediate indication that the birth was imminent but shortly afterward Sir John Peel, the royal obstetrician, and other doctors arrived. They left but returned this morning. Two and a half hours later Margaret gave birth.

In attendance with Peel were Sir John Evans, consulting physician to the queen, Margaret's older sister; Sir John Weir, the royal family doctor, and Dr. Vernon F. Hall, anesthetist.

It was the same team of doctors who attended Queen Elizabeth when she gave birth to Prince Andrew Feb. 19, 1960.

Both she and her husband were in a gay and laughing mood as they arrived with four suitcases of her belongings.

Gen. Walker Quits Army 'In Protest'

Ends 30-Year Army Career to Fight Against Communism

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army was ready today to accept the resignation of Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who is ending a 30-year service career in protest against military "censorship."

Walker said that as a civilian he would be able to continue his anti-Communist fight which he had "found it no longer possible to do in uniform."

"I must be free from the power of little men who, in the name of my country, punish loyal service to it," he said.

Removed From Command
The veteran officer, removed from command of the 24th division in Germany over alleged political activities, which critics said were based on principles of the right wing John Birch Society, said he would refuse the $10,125.50 a month retirement pay he is due.

In a bitter statement Thursday announcing his intention to resign, he said it would be a "compromise with my principle" to accept the pay.

The Army said that Walker could, in effect, be ordered to remain on duty, but a spokesman added there was no thought of doing that.

Hearings to Continue
Walker's statement, sent to the Senate Military Preparedness subcommittee, which resumes hearings on the "muzzling" hassle Nov. 17, was released by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., a Walker supporter.

Walker, who is staying in San Antonio, said he had no further comment on his resignation because his statement to the subcommittee speaks for itself. He declined to say if he would accept an invitation to appear before the subcommittee. But he added that he agreed with Gen. Douglas MacArthur that executive power has become so strong that military men are being treated ruthlessly for speaking their minds.

Land Purchase Aid Request to Schools Delayed
The Palm Springs Unified School District board held over to the November 9 meeting consideration of the city request for aid in purchase of a 10-acre school site in Section 2, pending a decision from a possible donor.

Board president Berton Lamb reported last night that the matter had not been decided by an individual who is considering purchasing the site and giving it to the city. The site is owned by Rosanna Saubel, 11-year-old school girl who owned the 10-acre site purchased for school construction in Section 2.

Other board activity was devoted to study of new legislation affecting school administration.

Largest Sub Launches 3 Rockets
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—America's largest missile-launching nuclear submarine fired three advanced model Polaris rockets within three hours today from the depths of the Atlantic Ocean.

The Ethan Allen triggered the 15-ton Polaris from firing tubes in its deck as it cruised beneath the ocean's surface about 300 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

The first of the bottle-shaped rockets surged upward through the water and into the air at 32 seconds past 6:02 a.m. PST. The others followed at 7:30 a.m. and 9 a.m.

Informed sources said the three shots "were all satisfactory."

The trio of secrecy-cloaked shots, however, fell short of the largest number of Polaris fired in a single day by a submarine. The Abraham Lincoln launched six on Aug. 12, recording four successes against two failures.

Set Vacation Record
CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Vacation travel by Americans in 1961 will break all previous records, an official of the American Automobile Association said Thursday night.

Modesto Held To Answer in Superior Court

INDIO — Lawrence Glenn Modesto, 31, unemployed ranch worker from One Hundred Palms, was bound over today to Superior Court here, on two counts of murder, by Indio Municipal Judge Wally Rouse, who ruled the morning preliminary investigation gave "cause to believe" Modesto killed two sisters late Saturday.

Modesto is charged with the hammer slaying of Mary Mack, 9, and her sister, Connie, 14. The girls were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ardell Mack, One Hundred Palms. Modesto was implicated by Mack, who told officers he had quarreled with him earlier Saturday in a bar where Mack is a musician.

This morning, photos of the girls and testimony of identification of the slain girls was made by James Black, a neighbor of the Macks.

Dr. Rene Modglin, county pathologist, told the court Mary Mack died from blows to the head inflicted by a "sledge-type" hammer, and that her sister Connie died from drowning. Modglin emphasized that Connie would have died from the head wounds "within minutes to an hour" if she had not drowned in an irrigation canal. Modglin's testimony matched all but one wound in Connie's head with the three-pound sledge hammer the state claims was used for the attack. The remaining wound, over the girl's right ear, was unexplained, the pathologist said.

Sheriff's Sgt. Dwight Metcalf told the court he found Modesto lying in bed in his Torres-Martinez reservation home with his eyes closed. Bloodstained clothing were found nearby.

Pacific Testing Site
The continuation of the Soviet testing, expected to end with last Monday's 50-megaton-plus explosion, led experts here to speculate the Russians might have come across some new lead in their experiments and wanted to follow it up.

If Kennedy orders a resumption of U.S. tests in the air, they presumably would be held at the Eniwetok-Bikini proving ground in the Pacific, which was used for the last series in 1958.

Authoritative sources have estimated it would cost more than $100 million to begin a new test program there because of the necessity to replace and repair facilities.

In the past it has taken about six months to prepare the proving ground and organize a task force to carry out an ambitious test program. But sources said it now could be done in two or three months if necessary.

Weapons experts predicted that, if Kennedy gives the go ahead, a test would be conducted next year of a Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile with powerful nuclear warhead.

Increase Power
Other tests, they said, might include experiments to increase the power of the Polaris, Minuteman and other missile warheads without increasing their bulk and weight.

These experts said this country also might proof-test battle-field weapons such as the Davy Crockett atomic bazooka, and conduct scientific tests aimed ultimately at producing the neutron bomb.

Kennedy said in his statement that if tests are resumed, the United States would hold fallout to an "absolute minimum." He said this country had no intention of exploding anything like a 50-megaton bomb.

The Chief Executive denounced Russia's "campaign of fear" but again offered to sign a nuclear test ban treaty so long as it provides for adequate inspection and control.

Atmosphere Test Could Come Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Atomic experts said today the United States could resume above-ground nuclear tests in two or three months if President Kennedy finds them necessary.

The President said Thursday such tests would be ordered if a current study of Soviet testing showed more experiments were required to maintain a U.S. nuclear lead over Russia.

Shortly after his statement, Russia exploded two more nuclear devices, raising speculation that Soviet scientists might have stumbled on some new development and were proof-testing it.

The blasts, 29th and 30th announced tests in the current series, were set off in the arctic. The Atomic Energy Commission said they both were in the low-to-intermediate range, or less than a megaton.

Unanimous Agreement On Burmese

Approval Includes Right to Choose His Own Deputies

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—The Security Council today unanimously recommended U Thant of Burma for election as acting secretary general of the United Nations.

In a meeting this morning, the 11-nation council recommended Thant's election by the General Assembly this afternoon to serve out the term of the late Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, which expires April 10, 1963.

Hammarskjold, a Swede, was killed in a plane crash in Rhodesia in September after having been secretary general since 1953, when he succeeded Trygve Lie of Norway.

Thant's nomination was agreed upon after six weeks' bickering between Russia and the United States, speaking for the Western powers. Agreement was reached when U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and British Minister of State Joseph P. Godber recommended Wednesday that Thant be elected to the interim post with full freedom to choose his own deputies, within limitations of the U.N. Charter.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin, in the face of the Anglo-American position, dropped his demand that the number of Thant's aides and the political groupings they should represent be fixed before the election.

Thant gained the post on a "no strings attached" basis. Western sources said, and planned to make no statement until after his election by the assembly, which was summoned to meet for that purpose this afternoon.

The assembly also was under pressure to take action on a call for renewal of an unexpected moratorium on nuclear weapons tests.

The call for the moratorium was contained in a resolution, sponsored by India and five other powers, approved by the 103-nation Main Political Committee Thursday night by a 72-21 vote with 8 abstentions.

Although the United States, Russia, Britain and France—the four nuclear powers—joined in opposing the measure, the committee passed the resolution.

200 Lose Lives In Hattie Storm

BELIZE, British Honduras (UPI) — At least 200 persons lost their lives in the devastating hurricane that slammed into his British crown colony Tuesday, officials said today.

They told the Weather Bureau at Miami that at least 108 persons died in Belize, another 36 at nearby Tulum Key, 14 at Key Cauler, and 27 at Stann Creek—the area hardest hit by hurricane Hattie.

The huge U.S. aircraft carrier Antietam arrived at Stann Creek today carrying 300 tons of emergency provisions for the survivors. A swarm of 23 helicopters was launched from the Antietam's deck to deliver emergency food and medical provisions in the disaster area.

There were reports, meanwhile, that the situation in Belize was becoming so chaotic that police were unable to cope with widespread pillaging and looting.

May Move Capital
A photographer for the newspaper El Imparcial of Guatemala City said also on his return from Belize that Prime Minister George Price told him "the capital must be transferred elsewhere" because of the magnitude of the hurricane disaster.

In a "preliminary survey of hurricane Hattie" issued this morning in Miami, the Weather Bureau said it was "reasonable" to conclude Hattie slammed into Belize with wind gusts up to 200 miles per hour.

Storm tides of 10 to 11 feet on the Belize waterfront were general, and waves deposited mud on the third floor of some buildings. Forty per cent of all the buildings in Belize were devastated and Stann Creek, "was if possible even more severely damaged," the preliminary survey said.

Thurber Dies

lieved Thurber was a humorist of Twain's stature and that "Walter Mitty" would be as universal and immortal as "Huckleberry Finn."

William Shawn, editor of the New Yorker, the magazine on which Thurber began his rise to fame in 1927, called Thurber "a master among comic artists, one of the great American writers of our time, and one of the few great humorists in all literary history... his writings and drawings were loved by millions of people throughout the world."

James Grover Thurber wrote some 20 books and did thousands of comic cartoons; he did essays, sketches, New Yorker "casuals," a full-length biography of New Yorker founder Harold Ross; he co-authored the play "The Male Animal" with his former Ohio State University schoolmate Elliott Nugent; he acted in the recent musical "A Thurber Carnival," made from his writings.

And yet, for the last two decades he had been for all practical purposes blind. When he was 6, he lost his left eye in an accident. When he was 40, a cataract began developing in the other eye. Surgery failed to help; gradually he lost his sight.

Director of Public Works Seating Seen

The city council is expected to announce the appointment of Thomas Essen, 41, as director of public works for the City of Palm Springs at an early meeting, it was reported Thursday.

Essen is now with the Federal Housing Administration at San Diego and will probably assume his new duties here before the first of the year. He has been with the FHA for some time and is a veteran of 12 years' service with the Army Corps of Engineers.

He will succeed William F. Crosson, appointed last spring, but who resigned before he actually took office after a federal grand jury indictment for violation of postal rules.

During the interim Harold Stone has been acting director of public works.

Baby Black Market in California Flourishes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A black market in babies is flourishing in California, an Assembly interim committee was told Thursday.

Joseph H. Reid, director of the U.S. Child Welfare League, said 10,000 babies were adopted in California last year, of whom 500 were sold on the black market and 100 exported out of the state.

The committee was hearing witnesses on proposed measures to limit adoptions in the state to licensed agencies. This would prevent doctors and lawyers from arranging private adoptions.

Reid said the state is becoming known as the "baby export" state because of the illegal traffic in babies. He said the activity is concentrated among "a few individuals in the Los Angeles area."

He charged that many girls from out of state are coerced into giving up their children by lawyers who threaten them with exposure in their home towns. Earlier in the hearing, state Welfare Director John M. Wedemeyer said private adoptions often involved "fee splitting, double payment of fees" and high costs among a relatively small group.

Philip Adams, a San Francisco attorney who handled between 80 and 90 adoption cases last year, challenged statements that exorbitant fees were charged.

The witnesses testified before the final session of a two-day hearing held by the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY HITS STRICTLY POLITICAL ROAD

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy wants Democrats who share his views elected to state and city offices on the basis that it will be easier for the federal government to work with them on housing and other domestic programs.

Kennedy developed this theme Thursday in his first two purely political appearances since his inauguration last January. He was trying to help Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the favorite to win reelection in New York City, and Richard J. Hughes, underdog Democratic nominee for governor of New Jersey.

He flew to New York Thursday to spend 40 minutes in a motor caravan ride with Wagner from LaGuardia Airport, across Harlem, down Broadway and back up Park Avenue to his hotel. Then he flew to Trenton, N.J., to speak in behalf of Hughes over a state radio network and to a crowd of about 10,000 in front of the War Memorial Building.

Although he made no speech in New York, the President distributed a statement saying Wagner shared his philosophy on full employment, housing and other urban problems. He said national efforts can succeed completely only if parallel efforts are being made in New York City.

Speaking for Hughes, he said the Democratic party in New Jersey was committed to the same goals as the national party. He said both he and Hughes wanted to keep the states moving in tune with the national government.

Seek Meet on 1-Way Travel

The city planning commission is working for a meeting with C. V. Kane, district highway engineer, to get a first-hand report on the state proposals for the one-way traffic proposal on Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue through mid-town Palm Springs.

Alternate proposals for a signal north of Vista Chino and a diagonal connecting street to permit two-way traffic on both Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Drive, or a one-way system with a possible cross-over at Alejo Road will be discussed.

Subsequent public hearings will be scheduled in the evening, to permit full public attendance, commission chairman John Miller said.

Kid on Bicycle Strikes Truck

Robert Lillis Roman, 9, of 30-640 San Diego Drive, Palm Springs, rode his bicycle off a sidewalk on San Luis Rey Drive into the back of a slow moving truck late yesterday.

The California Highway Patrol said Robert was being chased by another youth on foot and had turned away, failing to see where he was going. He was taken to Desert Hospital for treatment. Officers said the truck was driven by Charles B. Foster, 24, 67206 Astencia Drive, Palm Springs.

Twentynine Palms Marine Base Will Get $18 Million

TWENTYNINE PALMS — Rep. Harry R. Sheppard, D-27th District, has announced that the Marine Base here would receive an $18 million dollar slice of the San Bernardino county military allocation. The total military monies for the county he said, would amount to $245 million in the new defense budget.

Rep. Sheppard made this statement at a breakfast held in his honor here in appreciation of his 25 years service to the community.

The Commandant normally announces the results of the Military Appropriations Committee's approval or disapproval of individual command budgets.

General Fields said that as soon as more information becomes available, it would be disseminated.

Parts Stripped From Hi-Fi Set

A possible Halloween burglary which resulted in the stripping of a 10-foot long hi-fi set from the Jerry Nathanson home at 324 Overlook Drive, is under investigation by city detective Larry Carter.

Entry was apparently made through a bedroom window. The large hi-fi set was stripped of valuable parts, but because of its size was left in place.

Officers are also investigating reports of the theft of carpeting from two units under construction at 545 Desert View. Preliminary reports indicate large swatches of carpeting were cut from the wall-to-wall installations.

"WHISTLE-BAIT" fashions by Anne Cobin were shown during an informal presentation of the latest casual resort wear in the Mural Room and poolside at the Biltmore Hotel. Winnie, Nearly 87, Is Still Enjoying Life

LONDON (UPI)—Now if people will just stop badgering Sir Winston Churchill about getting a hearing aid everything will be all right again. A shudder of apprehension went through the British Isles a week ago when the old boy came down with a chill severe enough to force him to cancel out on a school reunion at Harrow.

At his age—he will be 87 on Nov. 30—even the slightest ailment sets people to worrying about news they don't want to hear. But at 10:50 o'clock one night this week a cloud of cigar smoke billowed out of the freight elevator at Quaglin's Club and when it lifted there stood Sir Winston ready for a party. Against considerable advice, he had come to attend a dance given in honor of his granddaughter, Miss Celia Sandys. He stayed until 12:30 a.m. and nobody was tactless enough to count the number of times his champagne glass was refilled.

Enjoying Life

Except for the hearing aid business, Sir Winston is enjoying life. He knows better than anybody else that his hearing is impaired.

Apparently everybody, starting with Bernard Baruch, has taken a fling at trying to persuade him to use a hearing aid. He bore up under this patiently for many months, but lately the suggestion brings the growl to his voice that used to be reserved for Hitler and Hermann Goering's air force. His explanation is that a hearing aid distorts voices, but among his closest friends there is a suspicion that his motive is more subtle. His eyesight is excellent, he loves to read and the less he has to listen the more time he has for his books.

The days when Sir Winston would order smoked salmon and a roast duck for breakfast are over, because his doctors have persuaded him to cut down on the richness and quantity of his food. This medical directive apparently has not been extended to beverages. A recent guest reported Sir Winston poured himself an after dinner brandy, the size of which would have cheered the heart of every cognac vintner in France.

PRETTY BARBARA Koenig, post office worker at the desert community of Bermuda Dunes, uses a golf putter to underscore an important Christmas reminder: Those with Christmas packages for members of our Armed Forces overseas must get on the ball before November 20. That's the deadline for assuring delivery before December 25. Miss Koenig points out. Early mailing is necessitated by long sea transit and customs inspections undergone by parcels.

Prime Minister Nehru Leaves for U.S. Visit

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru left today for a nine-day official visit to the United States and said it "will help both of us to understand each other's point of view."

Nehru will stop off in London Saturday for talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan before proceeding to his meetings with President Kennedy. He will arrive in New York Sunday.

"I am looking forward very much to meeting President Kennedy," he said. "So far as we are concerned, we have no direct problems between India and the United States."

Buff's Oils on Display at Desert Gallery

PALM DESERT—An exhibit of 25 oil paintings by impressionist Conrad Buff highlights the current display in the Desert Magazine Art Galleries, Paula Munson, gallery director, announced.

Buff, working in vivid oils, interprets Southwestern Indians, land scapes and desert animal life. In addition to his exhibit paintings and commission canvases, Buff has illustrated youth books written by his wife, Mary.

Other artists exhibited in the current exhibit through November 14 are Jimmie Swinnerton, Wilton McCoy, Margie Cummins, John Burroughs and Milton Austrander. The free exhibit is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Indian Entering Business World

One of 102 surviving members of the Agua Caliente Indian tribe in Palm Springs is stepping into the white man's competitive business world in a big way, a move which is unprecedented among members of his tribe.

The free enterprising tribesman is John Joseph Patencio, 43, who along with other members recently received property or money to bring his holding up to a total of $335,000 in a land equalization program just completed by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Bob and Al Gould of the Tierra Development Co., announced they have begun construction of a $100,000 coin-operated laundromat. It will be managed for Patencio by Lawrence Crossley, 62, long time confidant of the tribe.

Chanter

Patencio, who was last in the line of succession as tribal chief, is still one of the few members who can chant the local Indian dialect and today chants at local ceremonies and wakes.

The governmental system of the Agua Caliente Tribe changed at the time Patencio was to follow his uncle as chief of the tribe, and today tribal business is handled by a Tribal Council of five members.

The Agua Caliente Indians, as a tribe, once owned 32,000 acres of today's fabulously valuable Palm Springs land.

The Coin-Op is planned in keeping with Palm Springs beautification program and is located on Section 14, facing on Tahquitz-McCallum Way.

Rivals Movie Set

Its designers say it may rival a Hollywood movie set in the mundane pursuit of being well-laundered. Planned is a battery of 35 white-enamelled washers gleaming with gold trim and 10 dryers finished in charcoal and gold to complement the laundromat's ornate lounge.

Smith said there have been no actual committee appointments from Palm Springs yet but that response to Cook's announcement of candidacy last week was favorable and that he expects to announce committee members from this city within the next two weeks.

Elton Gebhardt, a Coachella Valley date rancher, president of Coachella Valley Farm Bureau and chairman of the Riverside County Board of Education, is a vice chairman on the Cook for Supervisor Committee. Norman FitzHenry, a director, is past president of Indian Chamber of Commerce. Harold Taylor is treasurer of the committee and James P. Jackson is finance chairman. Both are Indian businessmen.

CLAIRE CHRISTY and Eddie Davis, above, husband and wife duo, make their West Coast debut in the Safari Room of Ray Ryan's El Mirador Hotel tonight. They come to El Mirador fresh from a 10-week engagement at Miami's Deauville Hotel. Their nightly presentations in the Safari Room will include their doubling and even tripling on a wide range of instruments, solo and duet vocal renditions, singing impressions of movie greats by Davis, comedy routines and dance music featuring a big dance band sound stemming from their expert blending of various instruments.

BUSTER DEES, strolling troubadour, is currently strolling for customers in Racquet Club's bar. Dees, a real people pleaser, comes from a summer engagement at the Garden of the Gods Club in Colorado Springs.

VILLAGE VARIETY

by Hildy Crawford

News from Pathfinders Hat Parade Luncheon that may very well make Variety, both New York and Hollywood variety, is that the music for the parade will be played by an all band leader combo, composed of Chi Chi's own Bill Alexander, Tennis Club's Tony Rose, Riviera's Wally Harpst and Holiday Inn's Billy Allen, while that Old Maestro Eddie LeBaron will act as emcee. It's something new and different and the boys should have as much fun as the girl watchers at the whistle table.

Coming down for the Hat Parade Luncheon will be film star Troy Donahue, of "Lovers Must Learn" and Suzanne Pleshette, who replaced Anne Bancroft in "The Miracle Worker." This is Hollywood's newest romance and Suzanne's first visit to the desert. A native New Yorker she told reporters that the first place she wanted to see in California was Palm Springs and she will this weekend.

Eddie Cantor, who appeared to be calmly enjoying his lunch at Signature Room this week, must be more excited than he looked, even after all the honors that have come his way during his long years in show business.

Cantor was the first of 13 world-famous men named in the list to receive the Medallion of Valor from the State of Israel, at a commendation dinner to be at Beverly Hilton on Nov. 28.

The only Southern California man so honored, Cantor comes out of retirement to accept the award, which will be bestowed by Eleanor Roosevelt.

Mickey Finn, the big and burly one is on location in South America on the Yul Brynner-Tony Curtis starrer "Tora Tora Tora." While he is away Mr. and Mrs. Otto Peter of Newhall are staying with his wife Millie.

Most exciting addition to the Palm Springs entertainment world is Buster Dees, who plays a guitar but wears a dinner jacket, and who sings his songs in many languages as he strolls from one table to the next singing request numbers. Giving us an impromptu preview at the luncheon table the other noontime, Buster sang an arrangement of "I Love Paris" such as I have never heard before, and I'm getting to be an authority on the subject. Palm Springs society will hear him tonight when he makes a brief appearance at the private party for Palm Springs Pathfinders and Hat Parade workers, honoring the Hat Parade judges, columnists Christy Fox, Cobina Wright and Lynn Spencer (Cholly Angeleno) in the Naughty Nineties Room at the Ranch Club.

The old Palm House, long a Village nightspot, is being transformed and opens Nov. 16 under the name of "That John's," which needs a bit of explanation. The name comes from John Harutun, who is co-owner with Eitel Strebe and who has been with her at Eitel's Hideaway. Everyone knows him as "John" . . . so when someone asks who John Harutun is, the answer is likely to be "O, THAT John." Get the picture?

Something new in entertainment and food is planned and will be divulged later.

JERI SULLIVAN, who was such a smash hit in last winter's Martin Beck production of "South Pacific," and who has appeared at various night clubs here, is singing at the Ranch Club now.

'Peter Pan' In Production

The proverbial villain, Captain Hook, who haunts and taunts the inhabitants of Never Never Land, will be played by the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera's proverbial favorite, Paul Craik, in the production of "Peter Pan" scheduled Nov. 6-11, at San Bernardino High School.

A construction contractor in Crestline, Craik will chalk up his 23rd role for the Association with his portrayal of the obstreperous Captain Hook, whose only fear is of crocodiles. Craik also serves as a vice president on the Civic Light Opera Board of Directors and has assisted in the direction of many previous Association productions.

With a wide background of theatrical experience in the metropolitan areas of Los Angeles and San Francisco as well as his work with the San Bernardino Light Opera, Craik also appeared during the summer of 1960 as Buffalo Bill in a tour of "Annie Get Your Gun," starring Ginger Rogers. Tickets for "Peter Pan" are available at the Box Office.

United Nations Like Other Teenagers

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United Nations is in its 17th year. It is housed in the tallest palace on earth and it is the cause, like other teenagers, of considerable anxiety among its elders.

There is support for the accusation that the United Nations is a juvenile delinquent although this would be strictly a minority accusation in the United States. The Russians make great propaganda use of the machinery of the United Nations but seem to consider UN delinquencies to be more adult than juvenile.

The most accurate and deadly complaint against the United Nations is that its vast personnel and machinery do not function. They fail to attain and, fail even to approach, the goals agreed upon by the UN founders.

Disenchantment

There is evidence in the United States of a growing disenchantment with this situation. This disenchantment could extinguish the United Nations if it is sustained at its present rate or near it. The United Nations thus could be extinguished because the United States pays the largest individual share of UN bills. The United Nations scarcely could survive without U.S. subsidy.

Without U.S. funds, the United Nations absolutely could not maintain its present standard of living. It is not mere whimsy to consider the possibility that U.S. funds might be withdrawn from the United Nations. There would be precedent for that.

Several member states now are in arrears to the UN cashier. The Soviet Union, for example, re-against the cost of UN intervention in the Congo. The Soviets do not approve of UN policies there and balk at paying for policies they oppose.

The United States might find itself in a similar dilemma. United States influence in the United Nations is fading. The composition of the UN Assembly has changed vastly from its original composition of 1945. The neutralists are taking over. The Afro-Asian bloc, recruited from the burst of recently-born African nations, is the most powerful element in the present UN Assembly.

Faulty Machinery

The United Nations does not function, fails to achieve its own goals, because its machinery has been tampered with, probably, beyond repair. The UN organization set up in San Francisco in 1945 was conceived by men who expected that the concept of victorious allied powers that defeated Germany and Japan would continue to possess in common certain basic objectives. The chief of these was peace on earth.

The United Nations machinery was designed to function on that basis of common objectives. It cannot function otherwise and, so, fails to function properly. On Jan. 1, 1944, F.D.R. said this: "The concept of the United Nations came into being on another and infinitely bleaker New Year's Day two years ago... It was but three weeks after Pearl Harbor. Twenty-six nations subscribed immediately, eight more have adhered subsequently."

And F.D.R. precisely stated the chief UN goal. It was: "To make all of us secure against future aggression."

Those words coldly measure today the failure of the United Nations. Its towering palace is little more than a sounding board for the cold war.

Germans Today Live Better Than Any Time

By WERNER ZWICK

FRANKFURT (UPI) — West Germans today live better than ever before in their history, but the "miraculous" recovery from the ruins of the second world war did not benefit all West Germans equally.

While unemployment is at a record low, with only the unemployable out of a job, this situation has not raised the average income of a working man's family above 600 marks ($150) a month.

Unlike American trade unions, their German counterparts seldom resort to strikes to obtain their goals. The acute labor shortage has therefore not caused a corresponding rise in wages, only an influx of foreign workers, primarily from Italy and Greece.

It may be argued that the purchasing power of the mark, particularly as far as personal services are concerned, is higher than the four-to-one exchange for the dollar seems to indicate.

Nevertheless, the comparatively cheap personal services are largely offset by high prices for other commodities.

Coffee, for instance, sells for about eight marks ($2) a pound, cigarettes are two marks (50 cents) for a package of 20, and gasoline retails for 0.35 marks a liter (55 cents a gallon).

Social System Taxed

Although Germany is the birthplace of social security, introduced under Chancellor Otto von Rismarck, this system is highly taxed today through the staggering number of pensioners, war victims and war widows.

The West German currency is one of the most stable in the world, but the slight inflationary trend of the mark hurts these pensioners especially, as they are dependent upon a fixed income. And more than 11 per cent of West Germany's population is aged 65 and over, many of them pensioners.

This explains why West Germany's tax structure is comparable to that of the United States, although defense expenditures are far lower in the federal republic.

In addition to a steep income tax, which averages 25 per cent, there are taxes on most consumer goods, particularly the "luxury" items, including automobiles.

Driving Cost High

To drive a standard-sized American automobile in Germany, one would have to pay between $225 and $250 a year in taxes, plus an even greater amount for insurance. The tax and insurance rates are independent of the age of the car. This probably explains the prevalence of small cars in Germany and elsewhere in Europe.

Housing, or rather the lack of it, constitutes another "hole" in the federal republic's "miraculous" recovery.

For years, rentals could only be obtained through the government housing offices, families had to take in unwanted sub-lessees, and rental fees were kept at an artificially low point.

Despite these shortcomings of the economic "miracle," however, Germans as a whole seem satisfied that they are better off than ever before, although their living standard is still below that of the United States and some other Western countries.

Restaurant Row New TV Setting

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Hollywood's famous "restaurant row," La Cienega Boulevard, is the setting for a planned new TV series in which newspapermen will take over from private eyes as heroes.

The series, "Restaurant Row," is the brainchild of Peter Fairchild, a well-known artist here who has a special interest in the show—he owns Fairchild's, one of the top restaurants on the row.

The restaurant will be the main interior setting of the series, much as Dino's in "77 Sunset Strip."

The show will feature real and fictional columnists, according to Fairchild, and they will drop into the eatery to exchange yarns with other newsmen. The show will then take form through their reminiscences.

Dialing and Filing

Dialing and Filing: Why won't TV ever run out of material? Because it has TV to draw upon. Wednesday night, for example, "The Steve Allen Show" lampooned TV newscasters and "The Wonderful Years" segment from "The Garry Moore Show." This was followed by "Top Cat," which offered an episode titled, "The Unscratchables," inspired by the pin-stripe-suitables. Perry Como's show brought in Shirley Booth to plug her "Hazel" series, bounced jokes off various TV shows and TV techniques. "Mrs. C. Goes to College" borrowed Jackie Cooper's "Hennessey" for its cross-plug story-line.

Although called "The New Steve Allen Show," I find the ABC-TV hour going back, more and more, to the old Steve Allen show for its inspiration. And it's working out.

Como's show? Each week he keeps plugging that silly record of his called, "You're Following Me" and, frankly, it's bothering me.

Safe Water

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—Because they depend upon wells instead of lakes and streams, University of Florida scientists said Monday, 90 per cent of Florida's cities could safely use their water supplies almost immediately after a nuclear attack.

GARDENING IN THE DESERT

Water and Fertilizer Important to Lawns

We have at this time in the past been treated with occasional showers of heaven-sent rain to feed the new lawns. The roses and other plants have been nourished and the results have raised our spirits. Of late we have seen a lot of clouds in the skies above. However, the mountains surrounding us have the rain but we have to go in our pocket-books for water to bring our gardens to shape.

We are of the opinion that showers have a better effect on growing plants than has the stereotype irrigation with commercial water. Mr. Amateur Gardener must take into consideration the fact that roots of the new grass have had little time to spread deeper and deeper into the prepared soil and that a couple of days of warm sunshine will dry the surface of our sandy soil and the grass might wilt.

Until the new grass has taken a good hold and there are no bare spots he should continue daily with a fine spray that does not materially disturb the soil. After the first month of lawn growth it would be advantageous to give the soil a treatment of liquid fertilizer containing a mixture of organic fish preparation with balanced fertilizer, a chelated agent and minor elements.

Has Advantages

We have had excellent results from this mixture and, because it is only used once in each 60 day period, it is by no means expensive. Its fifteen per cent nitrogen will give the lawn a satisfactory, green color. As the liquid immediately contacts the tender roots it has an advantage over the many species of dry, granulated fertilizers. It is surprising how fast the nitrogen in the liquid gives grass and dichondra a deeper green.

For the first few cuttings of the new grass lawn the cutters on the mower should be set at 1½ inches; a tight cutting should strenuously avoided if the grower is looking forward to a rich, green lawn that will last until the middle of next June and maybe later. If he would cherish an all-year-round lawn he might experiment with Zoysia or Lippia but both of these would be much slower in covering than grass seed.

Zoysia Versus Lippia

Zoysia is generally started with clumps and Lippia with cuttings. The question of which to use is a matter of choice: Lippia seems to spread faster than do the clumps of Zoysia if the soil in which it is planted has been thoroughly prepared. Much later the spread has to be watched because it might spread and interfere with roses, hibiscus and other tender growths.

Peculiarly related to cotton and hibiscus. The Portia Tree would be worthwhile considering as an addition to the appearance of your lawn. Up to the present there are not many in our desert but, if you are curious, one can be scrutinized on the south side of our new City Hall on McCallum Way.

THERE'S A SECRET to keeping the lakes filled on the golf courses of the desert resort area. Jack B. Quigley, left, manager of Canyon Country Club, and Harold Simon, official in the huge development taking shape on South Palm Canyon Drive, display the unique plastic material which is used as a liner to retain the two million gallons of water in the large lake adjacent to the clubhouse on the golf course. The $500,000 clubhouse and the 18-hole golf course are scheduled to open by January first.

Keyed-Down Rooms Gain Favor as 'Family Cave'

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI)—Interior designers have come up with a new kind of room called "the cave."

Numerous versions of it were shown at the American Institute of Designers' decoration and design exhibition.

In striking contrast with the bright and bustling family room, the "cave" or "grotto" has dark-toned walls and a keyed-down, enclosed mood. It is designed to create an atmosphere of tranquility and repose, a retreat for the weary.

The TV set is best left out of "the cave," designers advise. This is the room for the hi-fi or stereo set and books. Recommended furniture includes chaise longue, sofa, ottoman, lounge chair.

Recognizing that few families can spare a room as a fulltime retreat or "cave," designers have come up with dual-purpose "caves."

One that doubles as a guest room has a tailored bed with foam rubber mattress covered in upholstery fabric for daytime lounging.

The effects created by professional designers can be simulated in the average home, the experts advise, by following a few simple pointers:

—Use relaxing furniture. If you have no chaise longue, set an ottoman beside a favorite lounge chair. If you have no sofa, use a foam rubber slab on a built-in base of plywood or a set of flush doors, available unfinished at many lumber yards and unfinished furniture stores.

—Pick a restful color scheme, preferably dark. Take your time selecting colors that give you a sense of warmth and well-being everyone reacts emotionally to different colors.

—Choose a few favorite objects you like to look at—a painting, a set of prints, a hand-loomed rug, a sculpture or possibly a family portrait.

—Keep the decor simple. Simplicity and serenity usually go hand-in-hand.

Spa Schools Are Expanding

DESERT HOT SPRINGS —New steel metal building additions to the Desert Hot Springs Elementary School are under construction, with a completion date of Dec. 18, and planned usage for the second semester of this school year.

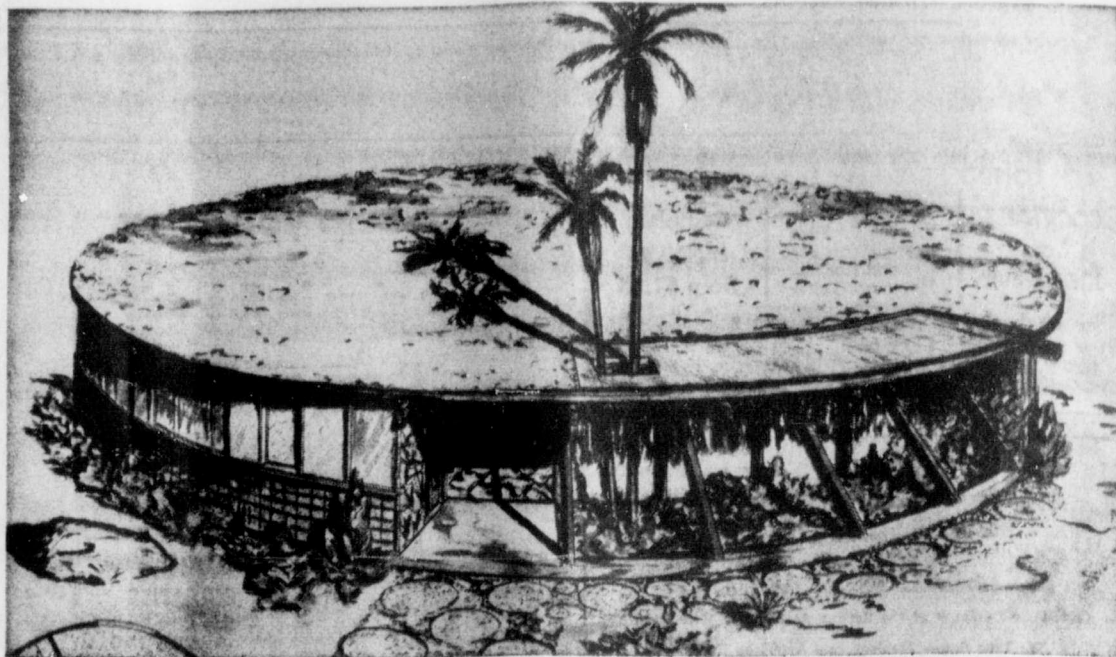

"Our school will now be complete with these additions," Principal Joe Kanya announced. Included in the $36,962 project are a library-classroom, kindergarten room, toilet facilities and site improvements.

A special feature of the site work is a ramp walk which will permit wheelchair or crutch-aided pupils to move easily to any room in the school complex. The ramp will aid pupils including those who are patients at the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation clinic or hospital here.

The current kindergarten room is a portion of the school's multipurpose room. The present library-classroom is a small room that originally served as a stock room.

Kanya, principal here since 1948, reported that the school has grown from 114 peak enrollment in 1948, to 203 peak in 1961. The current 1961-2 enrollment is "ahead of the enrollment this time last year," Kanya said. He explained enrollment has grown an average of five per cent a year in recent years.

Architects for the job are Wexler and Harrison, Palm Springs, and contractor is the Heathman Construction Co., Palm Springs.

ARTIST'S CONCEPTION of the Round House, one of six furnished model homes to be constructed for North Shore Beach Estates' first "Desert Home Show." Announced by co-owners Ray Ryan and Don Eastvold as part of North Shore's $1,000,000 building program—it includes Salton Sea's first north side airport and plane hangars—the Round House and five other uniquely designed homes will be started Nov. 15. The Round House, a two-bedroom structure, will afford limitless seascape views and desert and mountain vistas from every conceivable angle in the house. It will also add to the housewife's convenience by doing away with inaccessible corners.

Palm Springs Panorama Has Brisk Action

Palm Springs Panorama, the largest planned community in the Palm Springs area, hit an unprecedented $900,000 in lots and building sales last weekend, with the preview showing of their furnished models consisting of residences, duplexes and triplexes.

Over 4,500 attended the "Preview" event officials reported.

This marked the first of an eight-weekend Barbecue Fiesta celebration, with free invitations issued to patrons, friends and prospective buyers of lots and buildings in "Panorama."

Sam Manchel, developer of the giant 1,000-acre community, announced an additional record breaking statistic: the over - all total of sales, since the inception of Palm Springs Panorama, twenty months ago, passed the 11 million dollar mark.

Souvenirs, barbecue, treats, music, ranging from hill-billy to classical, and the comical stunts of the famed Powdy Family of clowns kept the visiting week-enders in a constant supply of fun and food.

FLY-IN DEVELOPMENT

North Shore Program Set

The marine community of North Shore Beach on the Salton Sea is to have fly-in boating, fishing and water skiing.

Ray Ryan and Don Eastvold, co-owners of the $2,000,000 development, announced that ground will be broken Nov. 15 for the construction of Salton Sea's first north side airport.

To be known as North Shore Airport, it will boast a hard-surfaced, 2,500 feet long and 50 feet wide landing strip with a 500-foot overrun of compact surface for emergency use. Included in the architectural plans are a group of "T" hangars for the use of yacht club members and sportsmen flyers with guest card privileges.

The landing strip will have a left hand approach coming in over the jetties of the yacht club's 400-boat marina with a touch-down point about 1,800 feet beyond North Shore's ship-like waters-edge clubhouse. Built to accommodate twin engine planes, the airport is expected to be completed by Jan. 1.

Ralph M. "Buz" Prince, former construction manager and contractor for Eastvold's multi-million dollar Ocean Shores development near Seattle, Wash., will be project manager. He's chairman of the Architectural Committee at North Shore Beach.

The airport construction is part of North Shore's new $1,000,000 building program encompassing 21 structures and a driving range and putting green adjacent to the airport. The driving range will be 300 yards in length and 100 yards wide and will be outfitted with the last word in pro shops.

The program was launched late this summer when 28 new boat slips were installed and the marina jetties redesigned so as to afford maximum safety to craft moored in the marina. Lights are being installed on the jetties at the entrance of the marina and gates are being built.

Highlighting the 21 new structures will be the building of six furnished model homes of unique design at North Shore Beach Estates. This construction is also scheduled for a Nov. 15 starting date and has been constructed to the Gibbs Construction Co. of Palm Desert.

The unique styling of these homes is pointed up by a round house, a Japanese tea house, a Polynesian house and a triangular house. When these spectacular homes are completed, they will star in North Shore's first "Desert Home Show."

Also on the drawing boards is a two-story commercial building which will consist of offices on the ground floor and apartment units on the upper story. It is located near the 50-unit North Shore Motel. Bob Pitchford of Palm Desert was the designer and the Gibbs Construction Co. is on the building end of this one, too.

Golf Club Villas Attract Wide Attention of Buyers

Wide attention has been attracted to the Golf Club Villas during the week since sales were opened, it was announced today.

Hailed as one of the greatest home values ever offered here, the homes are located adjacent to the Palm Springs Golf Course and some of them front upon the fairways.

Designed by Robert Muncaster, A.I.A., the Golf Club Villas homes are all three bedroom, two bath structures that boast many luxury features.

All are refrigerated, have two-way fireplace, separate dining areas, underground utilities, huge closets, wall-to-wall carpets, drapes and built-in range-ovens to name only a few of the features.

The Daily Mail also said that the missions are out to purchase 50 planes to strengthen the Katanga air force, including Sabrejets, and DC4 and DC 6 transport planes.

Alabama in New Study Of Negroes

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—The state of Alabama, seeking a new legal weapon in its efforts to preserve segregation, is financing a scientific study aimed at proving Negroes are mentally inferior to whites.

Attorney Ralph Smith, who represents Gov. John Patterson in all racial litigation, said here that $3,000 was drawn from the governor's emergency fund to pay for the study.

Smith said a detailed anthropological study has been undertaken by Dr. Wesley C. George of the University of North Carolina School of Medicine. He said George agreed in February to devote his full attention to the study during his three-month summer vacation.

"It is my feeling, and one shared by Gov. Patterson, that we should explore every avenue in our efforts to preserve racial segregation," Smith said. He noted that many Southerners believe the Negro to be mentally inferior to whites but that this science has proved this is not true.

"Actually, scientific data supports the contention that the white race, intellectually, is superior to the Negro, and that is the point we seek to make with this study," he said.

George, reached at Chapel Hill, N.C., said only that he is "working in collaboration with some people in Alabama in attempting to explore this problem."

George, whose latest published work is "Race, Heredity and Civilization," believes "there is undoubtedly a difference in the intellectual quality of races."

But he believes any solution to the matter "must be based on correct and valid scientific estimates of actors involved."

WORKING IN A SEWER IS NEVER DULL JOB

By ROBERT M. ANDREWS

LONDON (UPI)—"Working in a sewer is never dull," said the London County Council pamphlet. George Heath agreed, but with reservations.

Paris had her Jean Valjean, the fabled convict who made the sewers his home for a time. In Vienna's post-war era of intrigue, the notorious Harry Lime eluded occupation agents and finally met his death in the dank underworld.

But London? Heath, a ruddy-cheeked Cockney who has worked in London's sewers for more than 30 years, said they have their moments but couldn't match Paris or Vienna.

Heath scratched the grey hair under his grimy flat cap and shifted his hip boots in the mud. His voice echoed through the dripping tunnels that disappeared in darkness all around him.

In one direction, water gurgled peacefully. Somewhere rats scampered and splashed in the pitch black.

"It's been like this ever since I can remember," Heath said. No spies, no fugitives, no murderers.

Just rats, and pockets of gas that explode if you're not careful, and floods.

"Course, it gets exciting when royalty comes to town," said Heath. "Remember that big French bloke — De Gaulle, was it? The day he drove by, they sent plainclothes officers through here through all the muck looking for bombs. Three times in one day. Good athletes, they was, too."

Ghosts? In a nation that treasures its ghosts and tells tales about them, surely . . .

"We have to make our own ghosts," Heath said, chuckling. "We wait till some bloke blows out his lamp, and then we run a finger along his back or tap him on the shoulder."

Heath has caught many a rat with his cap—"the little blighters are too clever to fall for those wire cages"—but he's never found gold, or diamond rings, or even false teeth.

"You never find that sort of thing any more," he said. "The plumbing's too efficient."

In London, he said, all the characters are "up top," not running around down in the sewers. "You meet the craziest ones up there you'll find anywhere," he said.

Like the students, brandishing beer bottles, who staged a dance around a manhole one night in Oxford Circus while Heath was trying to unblock a storm drain.

Or the gentleman in Leicester Square, a bit the worse for wear after an evening at the pub, who insisted on helping Heath's gang lift buckets of sludge from one hole.

"He slopped it all over his suit, but it gave him a real kick," Heath said, shaking his head. "Then the bloke went back and sent us back a bottle of whisky . . . or blimey!"

For Heath, it's just a dirty job, with a pension for life at the end. "It ain't dull," he said, "but it ain't like Paris."

LIGHTER SIDE

More Than Christmas Is Creeping

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Don't look now, but Christmas isn't the only thing that is creeping up on us.

Almost before we know it, we will be celebrating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The event actually doesn't occur until next year, but one branch of the department already has started presenting a series of centennial lectures, which I have been reading with a great deal of interest.

My interest in agriculture stems in part from having tried to grow some tomato plants in a backyard petunia bed. I finally gave up and ate the petunias.

But more than that, I am fascinated by the endless variety of the department's activities. Some of them could hardly have been envisioned 100 years ago.

Non-Bitter Sweetclover

Just this year, for example, a department experiment station reported the development of a "non-bitter sweetclover." Possibly this will lead in time to the development of a non-sweet bitterweed. Not all of its experiments, however, have panned out so well. Among other things, the department has attempted to promote tea growing, silkworm raising and ostrich farming in America. None could presently be described as booming.

At the time that the department was created to help the American farmer, the American farmer was not necessarily aware that he needed any help. This was during Abraham Lincoln's administration.

In his first annual message to Congress, Lincoln pointed out that the total agricultural representation in the federal government consisted of one clerk.

Distribute Seed Packets

"While it is fortunate that this great interest is so independent in its nature as to not have demanded and extorted more from the government, I respectfully ask Congress to consider whether something more cannot be given voluntarily with general advantage," he said.

A few months later, Congress voluntarily gave the Agriculture Department its first annual budget amounting to about $60,000, spent mainly in distributing seed packets for congressmen.

This illustrates, as well as anything, how much times have changed in the past century. I spent almost that much last year trying to grow tomato plants.

Incidentally, the first full-term agriculture secretary was Jeremiah Rush, who once uttered the ringing words "I seen my duty and I done it." He barely escaped being elected vice president.

SLEEPY, the friendly bear, appeared at Howard Manor to pay his respects to Roger De Sarno, left, manager of the local hotel and night spot. Sharing in the fun and amusement is Al Christ, owner of the El Destino. (Lili Anne Photo)

Burro-Flapjack Event In Death Valley Soon

DEATH VALLEY — Bewiskered prospectors and their burros, a half-dozen entrants, but entries are still open, Alex Krater, co-chairman of the event, announced. The encampment is open to the public. Campers are urged to bring plenty of warm clothes, food, water and fire wood.

Vying with the professional prospectors will be a limited field of "city slickers" who will meet the "desert rats" on their home grounds in the colorful Burro-Flapjack Sweepstakes. During this traditional event, each contestant leads a pack burro over a 100-yd. course, builds a fire, prepares flapjacks and attempts to feed one to his burro.

This event, which takes place at Stove Pipe Wells at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 11, is only part of the fun during the four day outing," says Sturtevant. Other attractions are campfire meetings, dances, tours of the valley, special entertainment, breakfasts honoring artists, photographers and authors, and exhibits of firearms, minerals, art and Indian artifacts.

Good Earth Is Paunchy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It's a good thing the earth has a paunchy middle. Otherwise, big explosions like those the Russians have been firing off conceivably could unsettle the seasons by changing the tilt of the planet's axis. But because of its equatorial bulge, the earth is a sort of gigantic gyroscope, a mammoth flywheel, spinning in space. And, say scientists, no imaginable man-made force could budge its axis of rotation to any observable extent. If the planet were a perfect sphere, almost anything that happened on its surface, even the scampering of mice, could make it wobble. But as long as it spins, it cannot become a perfect sphere. In any case, a perfectly spherical earth presumably would be covered with water and there wouldn't be any people with H-bombs around.

Study Discloses Facts on Russia

By LOUIS CASSELS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia "probably has the largest proportion of widows of any country in the world."
It also has one of the world's most "polyglot" populations, with more than 100 separate nationalities.
These and many other facts about the Russian population are disclosed in a new study by the Population Reference Bureau, a private non-profit research organization with headquarters here.
"Not a single generation of the Soviet people, except those who are under 12 years of age, has escaped the repercussions of war, revolution, forced labor or famine," the Bureau reports. "These misfortunes have left many scars on the Russian population."
One of the scars is an unusually heavy proportion of widows. And this in turn helps to explain why visitors to Russia see older women sweeping streets, shoveling snow, and performing other jobs which men would do in this country.

Notes on Television

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dan Sorkin, still a radio disc jockey on a Chicago radio station, commutes to Hollywood each week to serve as announcer on humorist Bob Newhart's half-hour TV show on the NBC network. He got the job because he was the first to give Newhart a break on the air two years ago, playing some tapes of the comedy routines on his radio show. The two have been close friends ever since.

"ABC's Wide World of Sports" will be reactivated by the network Jan. 7, appearing weekly on Sundays from 5 to 6:30 instead of on Saturdays as formerly.

The NBC team of Chet Huntley and David Brinkley will be the target of the annual lampoon dinner-show of the New York chapter of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. The event will be on Nov. 30 at the Astor Hotel. Milton Berle, Arthur Godfrey and Ed Sullivan were "honored" at previous such gatherings.

ABC's one-hour "The Roaring 20s," which began its second season this fall, is destined not to complete it. Plans are to drop the program after the first 13 weeks, sometime in January.

Major Breakthrough on Cancer in Year

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A medical scientist said today it is highly likely that a major breakthrough in treatment of cancer will be achieved within the coming year.

Ravdin, one of the nation's most famous surgeons, assisted in the ileitis operation on then President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1956. He is surgeon-in-chief at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital.

The prediction was made by Dr. I.S. Ravdin of the University of Pennsylvania at a national cancer conference. He heads a clinical studies panel appointed by the National Cancer Institute to evaluate new drugs for control of cancer.

Canal Traffic High

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The Rivers and Harbors Act of 1925, which authorized construction of the Gulf Intracoastal Canal System, envisioned five tons of commerce would move through the waterways annually. Traffic through the system last year totaled 55 million tons, the U.S. Corps of Engineers here said.

been found for treatment of special types of cancer.

"Matters have improved in the cancer fight, and we are beginning to see the light," Ravdin told the conference, attended by more than 1,000 physicians and medical researchers from all parts of the nation.

He said it is now certain that "cancer will come under control, just as diabetes did."

"The answer could come next month, next year—or next week," he said.

"It is important that we keep cancer patients alive as long as possible, because we never know when the answer will come, and we are likely to have improvements in therapy before we know the whole nature of the disease." Ravdin said research to date strongly suggests that "most human cancers are probably due to viruses and the answer in treatment will probably be through a variety of chemical agents." in origin" may be obtained "before another year is passed," he said.

Rose Bowl Derby Heats Up

BIG FIVE LOOP SHOULD GET UNTIED SATURDAY

United Press International
The battle for the Big Five football title, and the dubious pleasure of facing some Big 10 powerhouse in the Rose Bowl, heats up this Saturday when UCLA hosts California while Southern California invades Washington.

Coach Bill Barnes' Bruins, sparked by tailback Mike Haffner, are 12-point choices to knock over California and Washington is a 5 point pick over the Trojans. Both Los Angeles schools are tied for first place in the league with 1-0 records.

Ex-Palm Springs Football Star In New Mexico

UNIVERSITY PARK, N.M.—Bob Jackson is a fellow who doesn't plan it that way, it's just travel light. As the saying goes, he the way is worked out.

The former Palm Springs High School star is the fullback for the football team at New Mexico State University. He's a good one too, and is being boomed for All-American honors.

Jackson stands 6-3 and weighs 220-pounds plus. His speed, according to Aggie Coach Warren Woodson, is "adequate." His size is both a help and a hindrance. He presents a big target and one hard to miss when tackling.

This explains the fact that when Jackson carries the ball he usually travels "heavy," or with two or three men going along for the ride. And ride they do. In seven games this season "Jarring Jackson" has toted opposing linemen 530 yards on 104 carries for an average of 5.1 per carry a salty average for a man who usually gets the call when the yards are the toughest.

Good Pro Prospect
Bob's statistics rank him in the top 10 in the nation in rushing. He is third in the Border Conference in the category, trailing teammate James (Preacher) Pilot and West Texas' Pete Pedro.

His presence on the Aggie squad is well known to the professional scouts, who have been drooling in anticipation of his graduation. And that fits in exactly with Bob's plans for the future—he wants to participate in the play-for-pay ranks.

Jackson will be back in the line-up when the Aggies journey to San Antonio this weekend to battle the Trinity Tigers. The contest is slated for Saturday afternoon (the Aggie only afternoon game of the season) at Alamo Stadium (capacity, 22,500) overlooking San Antonio.

FINAL PLANS for the Racquet Club's 8th annual Senior Tennis tournament are being discussed here by the club's pro, Dave Gilliam and the Racquet Club tennis hostess, Julie Copeland. Play got underway at noon Friday with the final matches on Sunday afternoon.

Ferry Favored To Retain Title Won Last Year

Top Southland amateur golfers tee up tomorrow morning to start the second annual Palm Springs City Open Golf tournament at the Municipal links.

Favored to repeat his victory of last year is Dick Ferry, ex-Southern California Junior champ, who now plays out of Upland. He will get some competition, however, from a host of top players. They include Ryder Cup player Gene Andrews, Johnnie Jacobs, Johnnie Nichols, Frankie Motte, Lee Davis, Jerry Erick, Harold Minasian and Hank Biere.

The 36-hole two-day event gets underway at 7 a.m. tomorrow and will be decided Sunday. Three flights are scheduled for the over 100 golfers who are expected to participate. A championship flight pits 0-3 handicappers, while First Flight takes in 6-12 handicaps, and Second Flight accommodates 13 and up.

Trophies on Display
Seventeen prizes are offered in the event which is sponsored by the Men's Golf Club of the Palm Springs Municipal course, and the City of Palm Springs. The shiny trophies are currently on display at the clubhouse.

Strating time for players already signed up are as follows: 7 a.m.—Podell, Adams, Riley, Hansberger; 7:07—Rose, Henry, Manley, LeMen; 7:14—Wasserman, Meyer, Wheat, Santoya.

Undefeated String Of Indian JV Ends

A string of 14 straight undefeated games came to an end last night for the Palm Springs High School Junior Varsity Indians. And it came to an end at the hands of the team which last beat the Junior Tribe back in 1959—Coachella Valley.

The Junior Arabs scored the first and last times they had the ball in the game, driving 80 yards on eight plays following the opening kickoff to take the lead they never relinquished.

Imperial Motors took over first place in the 500 Scratch League at PS Lanes last night, blanking team two, 4-0.

In other results, team three beat team seven, Industrial Cafe beat the Sportsmen, all by 3-1 scores.

Individual honors went to Tiny Rohrback with 246 top game, and Paul Classen with 780 top series. Twelve 200's were rolled.

In a bowling oddity, Sir Neb's Neblung climber the ladder in four games with a 178-179-180-181.

The morning Desert Housewives League action saw Phyllis Stickle surprise the loop with shooting of 158-153-163 for a 474 series. Marge Hill was second at 419. Pearl Edmonds 433, Sylvia Dorski 410, Ruby Crabtree 405 and Jane Dill, 496.

Trailer Bowling League Planned

Residents of various trailer parks in the Palm Springs area are invited to join a trailer parks bowling league now being organized at Palm Springs Lanes, manager Fred Scarms announced.

Tentative bowling date has been set for Tuesdays at 9 or 9:30 a.m. Five teams have already signed up.

Interested individuals or teams may contact Robert Medley at the Horizon Trailer Park, 3573 E. Palm Canyon Drive, phone 328-3730, or Scarms at the bowling center, 324-3321.

Free bowling lessons will be offered to beginners or those who wish to improve their game, according to Scarms.

'Cats Take On Yucaipa In 'Breather'

TWENTYNINE PALMS — It should be one of the best homecomings here in years.

The Wildcats of Twenty-nine Palms High School are riding high with a victory over rival Palm Springs last Friday in their own field. Things look good for the homecoming game here tomorrow night, too, because the opposition is being furnished by the lowly Yucaipa Thunderbirds, who are resting in last place in the Desert Valley League.

With the theme "Onward Wildcats," the weekend should be a

Queen Helen Reigns
Queen Helen Lewis will reign over the festivities with a court comprised of beauties from each class.

Coach Gene Moffett sends his squad out for its second straight win after an impressive DVL opening games against Coachella and Palm Springs. The Wildcats tied the Arabs, 6-6, at home and then trounced the rival Indians, 19-6.

Star tailback George Huntington who has been the team's big gun so far this year, has had Yucaipa Coach Howard Newmann up nights this week working on defense. The success he has may determine the chances the Thunderbirds have but chances are that the night will be a bleak one for him. Yucaipa has scored only one TD in six games so far this year, an opening night 6-0 win over Beaumont. Since then, the scores have been 33-0, 39-0, 20-0, 34-0 and 20-0.

Playing ball control, the Arabs allowed the Tribe only two plays from scrimmage in the first period and just one first down in the entire first half. The Indians played much better in the second half, but could never really get loose.

Lone Tribal score came with only seconds left in the game after the Arabs had gone ahead 14-0. On the kickoff, Olvera handed the ball to John Booty on a reverse at the 30 and the fleet halfback raced 70 yards for the score.

Closest the Indians came otherwise was when Paul Summers pitched a pretty 33-yard pass to Frank Rivers on the Arab goal-line at the start of the fourth quarter—and he dropped it.

The big gun for Coachella was the highly-touted Steve Price, who played several different positions in the Arab backfield. Another star for the visitors was halfback Frank Morales, who scored the first touchdown on a 41 yard gallop four minutes into the first period.

Other Coachella score came as a result of a roll-out by quarterback Ricky Totten who rambled 10 yards for the score that broke the Indians' backs. Max Richardson kicked both Coachella extra points.

The gutsy Tribe came right back, however, to score on the ensuing kick-off, and then controlled the ball on an on-side kick-off, but could not take advantage of it.

Some fine defensive work was turned in by Jerry Trussell, Olvera, Pedro Chacon, Roy Hall and Mike Lewis. The offensive Indian line played a spotty game, however, and strong Arab charges messed up much of the Tribe offense, especially the passing attack.

Score by quarters:
Coachella 7 0 0 7—14
Palm Springs 0 0 0 6—6

Pin Pickers Top Marine League

TWENTYNINE PALMS — With 18½ games to their credit, the Pin Pickers are still in the number one position in the Marine Corp Base Wives Bowling League.

However, a close race is being run by other contenders and a three-way tie exists for the second place slot. Each having 18 wins, The Dare Devils, Kahtus Kuties and "4" Belles, will fall into the next three positions, determined by total pin fall.

Interested individuals or teams may contact Robert Medley at the Horizon Trailer Park, 3573 E. Palm Canyon Drive, phone 328-3730, or Scarms at the bowling center, 324-3321.

Indians Seek Victory in 7 P.M. Game

Now that they are out of the running for top spot in the Desert Valley League, Coach Dick Bunting's Palm Springs High School Indians game tonight should decide whether they will finish in the middle or near the end of the standings.

In a game moved up to 7 p.m. starting time at Coachella Valley, the Tribe's fortunes will probably be decided. If they can get by the Arabs, the psychological lift might get them past Banning next week in their homecoming game.

If, however, Coachella can take advantage of the home gridiron, the Indians might have to wait until their final season game at Yucaipa to get back on the victory trail.

Both the Indians and Arabs come into the game tonight nursing wounds from 19-6 losses. The Tribe was upset by Twenty-nine Palms, while Coachella was falling before a strong Banning squad by the same score.

Coach Bunting doesn't want to use injuries as an excuse, but the facts are that he is in poorest shape of the year for the game. Two of his best backs are out as well as two starting tackles. One of the backs, Mark Edwards, who has missed the last two games with a fractured thumb, might get to see limited action, but Tom Bradley got a wracked-up knee in practice Tuesday and is definite ly out.

Pete Borak is another casualty and fellow lineman Sim Farer suffered slight injuries in a car accident and is probably out.

On the other hand, Coach Jerry Usher's Arabs has some top players coming off the injury list headed by two backfield key men. Quarterback Roger Totten comes back after three weeks out and Fullback Gary Funtas also will return to action.

Long a power in football, the Arabs have run into trouble this year with a record so far unimpressive at one victory, three losses and two ties.

Local fans hope the mysterious malady which has afflicted the Tribe will be over soon — and hope the cure starts tonight. After reeling off two sharp victories against Perris and San Jacinto, they have suffered three straight losses.

Hat addicts, as well as those who just love the color and fun of it will be packing the Chi Chi Starlite Room tomorrow afternoon for the Pathfinders' Hat Parade Luncheon and inside information indicates that this will not only be the biggest and best yet, but that it will also produce the most fabulous hats. There will still be tickets on sale at the door and hats on sale at the hat booth, and you can bring your husband for there is a special whistle table for them. So, it's "Hats on" for the Hat Parade, that is raising money to build a swimming pool for the Boys Club.

Dorothy and Chester Cohagan arrived home two days too late for her to do her annual stint as judge for the Palm Springs Deb tryouts (she was Dorothy Preble of the famous modeling school). They'd been on a 13,000 mile trip up into Canada and up and down the east coast, and she had returned to a reunion of her class at the University of Illinois (I won't tell which one, Dorothy), where she encountered old friends of mine, who visited in Palm Springs last winter, the Charles Bowns.

The happy news in the Cohagan family is that Dorothy has a new grandchild, a little girl, born to her daughter and son-in-law Patte and Jack Barry, who are now in Hollywood, Florida, where he owns a radio station.

It's identical twin daughters for the Al LeAnces, named Suzanne and Michele, born October 28 in Orange, where he handles the office for a metropolitan newspaper. This makes three girls and a boy in the LeAnce family. The mother is the former Sandra Cordrey, daughter of the Earl Cordreys.

Gourmets, attention: Racquet Club Chef Gilbert Pierrrel is preparing breast of pheasant grand veneur for Saturday night's dinner, but only enough for 48 and you'd better call Albert right away. This dish is made with a special wine sauce, and is said to be fit for a king.

Berne and Jack Meiselman, who have been busy remodeling their Via Monte Vista home in a Mediterranean decor with a 15 foot front door, are also adding a studio for Jack, who did around 40 paintings this summer.

Jo and Phil Regan went in to Los Angeles to attend the party given by Governor and Mrs. Pat Brown, whose new residence there is owned by Amy Phillips, former owner of the Regan residence here.

Among other Palm Springers at the party were Bonnie and Hank Ridder. Also in the crowd were the Mervyn LeRoys and the Ed Pawlings Sr.

Arriving soon for a two month stay with their friends the Regans, are the David MacDonalds. David is being honored at a testimonial dinner at Lakeside this evening, which Phil will attend.

Dorothy Gray Brown, who is in New York, found herself at a party wearing her favorite orange Marusia gown that exactly duplicated that of the guest of honor, Louella Parsons.

The battle of the sexes starts in the cradle and even there the females are winning a victory of sorts. The Diaper Service Industry Association said its records show that baby girls learn earlier to require less changing and use from two to five fewer diapers a day than baby boys.

Tau Sigma Party Theme Is Halloween

A scarecrow centered the refreshment table and light in the meeting room glowed from a pumpkin, when the Tau Sigma Chapter held a Halloween-themed meeting in the El Alameda home of Mrs. Almeda Stone.

Members participated in a quotation quiz during the evening's program, "Giving and Receiving Friendship." Program chairmen, Rita Jones and Marien Weigel, awarded a prize to the sorority woman most informed on quotations dealing with friendship.

Mrs. Pat Wahlberg, president, read the letter of commendation which accompanied a three-star chapter award, the highest rating in Beta Sigma Phi. The award was received for the work accomplished by the chapter during 1959-61, under the presidency of Mrs. Mary Nugent.

Mrs. Charlene Hicks announced that the group's next event will be the "Pledge Ritual" for Mmes. Deal, Marilyn Matthews, Virginia Hubbard and Bea Ochirero, on Nov. 6.

In mid-November, the group will hostess the Desert Cities Council meeting. Mrs. Marian Weigel, social chairman, will head the refreshment committee, and will be assisted by Mmes. Pat Hilborn, Almeda Stone, Anda Crowell and Lillie Milkie.

AN OCTOBER BRIDE, Mary Shirlene Link, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schooss of Palm Springs and Bermuda Dunes, was married to Mandius Charles Lundal in Oakland.

*Autumnal Colors Accent
Bridal White of Wedding*

Champagne and crabapple tones of other gowns in the wedding party, served as an autumnal accent for the bridal white of Mary Shirlene Link as she said her wedding vows with Mandius Charles Lundal in an afternoon wedding in Lake Shore Baptist Church in Oakland on Oct. 28. They were married by Dr. Harold N. Geistweir.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schooss of Palm Springs and Bermuda Dunes Country Club, was lovely in a ballerina length gown of bridal taffeta, with a lace-appliqued bouffant skirt, and a long-sleeved bodice with a lace-scalloped scoop neckline. She carried a cascade of butterfly orchids and stephanotis, as she was given in marriage by her stepfather, Carl Schooss.

Mrs. Joe Dale Hudson, matron of honor, wore a gown of champagne taffeta, with bouffant skirt and scoop neckline, and carried a cascade of crabapple - shaded carnations.

Best man was a fraternity brother of the groom, Frederick Reich of San Francisco, and a brother-in-law, Douglas Olson of Oakland, acted as usher.

The bride attended Central Union High School in El Centro, St. Mary's College at Notre Dame, Indiana and Oakland City College.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mandius O. Lundal of Osburn, Idaho, attended Wallace High School there and the University of Idaho at Moscow, where he was affiliated with Kappa Sigma. He also attended the United States Navy Officers Candidate School. He is sales engineer with a San Francisco firm.

The bride's mother wore a Peggy Hunt original of crabapple tinted french lace, with tiered skirt and bodice and accessories of pink brown. Mrs. Lundal, mother of the groom, was wearing an imported brocade gown in multi shades of champagne and crabapple.

Following their honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination, the young couple will be at home at 3084 Richmond Blvd., in Oakland.

The theme of the conference will be "Today Decides Tomorrow." Three featured speakers at the morning session to consider this theme in three phases are the Rev. F. A. Barnhill of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, who will speak on the spiritual girl; Mrs. Frank Bennett, well-known community cultural leader, who will speak on the social girl; and Mrs. Barbara Foster, Fashion Coordinator, Harry Conover School, who will speak on the Business Girl.

Presiding during the conference will be Kay Kunkel, president of the local Girls' League, with Joanne Ellison as program chairman. Members of her committee are Gail Rector, Julie Rossio, Sandy Dunphy, Clare Wagner, Ione Logan, Karen Karr, and Caroline Ziegler.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By LICHTY

"...And I propose we turn our annual 'husband's night frolic' into a fund raising affair! ... I'm sure they'll gladly pay not to attend!"

"MOM, WHERE'S THE FINGERNAIL FILE?"

Television in Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Can a college course in Greek vase painting help meet the challenge of the space age?

According to "Little Lost Sheep," the springy "U.S. Steel Hour" comedy on CBS-TV Wednesday night, the answer is yes. Why? Because a dynamic business tycoon overruled the irascible eggheads who were ready to destroy a liberal arts curriculum in order to attract his eye and money. And, I might add, because TV plays must have happy endings.

Despite that glossy finish, Ernest Kinoy's script was propelled by hard-driving, convoluted comedy. It was ideally mounted for TV. The cameras were allowed to embellish dialogue by making statements of their own by means of sharp scene cuts.

The story found Hans Conried as a college English professor and Jane Wyatt, his Hellenistic wife, an authority on Greek pottery, deciding to play along with a scheme to win their faltering college an endowment of $50 million, or, as one character said, 50 megabucks. Hans and Jane were to help their star egghead oddball "sell out" and win an executive training competition by tailoring his "image" to fit the requirements of mediocrity. The kid won the so-called prize and lost the girl.

But it developed that his future boss was a former campus radical who loathed organization men and conformists. Said tycoon decided to bestow his fortune upon Thoreau College — provided the egghead stayed out of the business world and the curriculum remained true to the humanities, the arts and the mind.

The production, directed by Paul Bogart, was gilded with a rich mixture of sardonic, farcical and satirical material. In a way, it was like watching a whole cast of Mike Nichols and Elaine May working out pointed improvisations. Among the gem-like vignettes: a college lover whispers sweet nothings into his girl's ear. The sweet nothings? He says he has lined up a $6,500 junior executive spot.

WITH A ROAR, a Terrier missile leaves its launcher headed for a radio controlled drone target, during a successful two-day firing exercise held at Marine Corps Base, Twenty-nine Palms. The Terrier missile is a deadly all-weather, surface-to-air weapon, designed to provide long range anti-aircraft defense against high speed, medium altitude aircraft, and to increase the intercepting range of land-based anti-aircraft fire. The First Medium and Second Light Antiaircraft Missile Battalions teamed up in a successful two-day shoot on the desert range.

'Denial' Big Factor in Alcoholism

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Here you have two men, one seeking help, the other eager to give help. But the help-seeker is dead set against revealing what help he really needs, and the would-be help-giver doesn't really want to find out.

The sad thing is neither is consciously aware of what he is doing. They're both using the psychological and unconscious mechanism of "denial." And that, said Dr. Melvin L. Selzer, a psychiatrist, is a big reason why the "disease" alcoholism is often undetected and so untreated.

This kind of alcoholic hides his vice from himself as well as from the world. He claims he can "take it or leave it alone." Anyhow, he may say, he drinks only beer. Unconsciously he sees life as unbearably empty and threatening if it is life without strong drink.

To him there can be no life without alcohol. Unconsciously it is a desperate matter. He has to keep himself convinced that he doesn't really need alcohol. In that way he can believe there is no reason why he should give it up.

And so he goes to a physician and itemizes his ailments but omits the real one. The eager professional help-giver may then fuss around with secondary symptoms without ever rooting out their real cause, namely, alcoholism. The doctor, too, is using the "denial" mechanism, Selzer said.

Doctors have long since learned alcoholic patients are frustrating and there's no really good treatment for the "disease," alcoholism. You can understand why "the physician may be loath to discover that one of his patients is alcoholic," Selzer continued.

Selzer is a member of the faculty of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. He was lecturing physicians on the psychiatric quirks of alcoholism—and lamenting that so many people never realize a person is an alcoholic unless he (or she) habitually appears in public, dead drunk.

He granted what is well-known. Occasional heavy drinkers are not necessarily alcoholics and there is no standard nor generally successful medical treatment for alcoholism. The alcoholic is a tough problem for a doctor but doctors should never permit an alcoholic's "denial mechanism" to prevent them from making the diagnosis.

Saegers Return From European Adventure

Following their three week air tour of Europe as members of the "European Shrine Adventure," Mr. and Mrs. Levan Saeger returned via New York and Minneapolis. Leaving Los Angeles they flew the Polar Route to Copenhagen, Denmark, where they spent four days.

Among the interesting places visited were the Kronborg Castle and Frederiksborg Palace via the Danish Riviera. They spent two days in the West German metropolis of Hamburg on the banks of the Elbe River, and then flew to Paris, France, for two exciting days of sightseeing and shopping.

The next point of interest was Geneva, Switzerland, where a drive was taken along the shores of Lake Geneva to Lausanne, from where they took the steamer to Montreaux and spent a day at the medieval Castle of Chillon made famous by Byron.

Before leaving Switzerland, they drove over the beautiful mountain pass to the city of Lysin high in the Alps and a ski lift up to Mt. Berneuse. From Lausanne, they flew to Vienna, Austria, and toured the many beautiful Cathedrals and Churches in the city on the River Danube. The next stop was Munich, the Capital of Bavaria and the gateway to the German Alps. They enjoyed the colorful October Beer festival staged at the Hofbrau Haus.

An all-day drive took the party along the Autobahn to Stuttgart and then to Wiesbaden at the world famous health resort at the foot of the Taunus Mountains. By motorcoach an excursion took them along the Rhine River through many well known wine villages to Assmannshausen, where they were taken aboard the Rhine Steamer for the trip downstream to Coblenz, where they visited the Deinharts Wine Cellars. They spent another day in Wiesbaden before flying to New York City where they spent a week with Mrs. Saeger's aunt, Mrs. Maude Seighardt and took in the top shows.

Ring Returns

MERIDIAN, Tex. (UPI)—Last January Bill Pirkle of Lewisville, Tex., was blood testing and vaccinating turkeys at the Meridian hatchery and he lost his diamond ring.

Nine months later a woman was dressing a big turkey gobbler in the dressing plant of the hatchery. She noticed something bright and shiny in the turkey's gizzard. It was Pirkle's ring.

In Minneapolis they spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vollbracht, at the family home and visited with their many friends.

Prior to leaving from San Pedro on a German freighter for an extended tour of Europe, Carl Roesler and Walter Echinbaugh, artists from Grants Pass, Ore., are at the desert home of Mrs. E. Wennermark, president of Universal Motors in Los Angeles. Mrs. Wennermark is due back in Los Angeles this week from a six-week tour of Europe. Over the weekend her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens, were here from La Mirada and had as their houseguests Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kribs of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Ed. (Maree) Frisby spent two days last week at the home of her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bridgford, in Anaheim. The occasion was the seventh birthday of Billy Bridgford. At the Saturday afternoon birthday party, Billy and his little guests were entertained by "Hill's Puppeteers."

In celebration of Sonja Dragge's 14th birthday, she was joined by six young friends for a horseback ride to Andreas Canyon. Mrs. Dorcas Dragge, assisted by Mrs. Kappy Curston, served a picnic lunch and the guests sang "Happy Birthday" as Sonja blew out the candles on the beautifully decorated birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Thomas returned to their home in Sioux City, Iowa, following a visit with his sister and family, the Frank Aitchisons, at their home on Aitchison Drive. A family get-together was held at the Los Angeles home of their sister, Mrs. Edward Weis, where they were joined by their son, Allen Thomas, who came down from San Francisco for the occasion. Young Thomas had just returned from Navy duty in Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Estel and their houseguests, his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Estel, attended the testimonial dinner held at the Elks' Club in Indio on Tuesday night to honor Mrs. Robert Estel's grandfather, Indio civic leader Frank Tebo, on his 76th birthday. The visitors with their children, Danny, Monica and Marty, arrived Monday night from their home in Thousand Oaks.

Population Is Built-in Drive For Business

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Among the officials here this week, at least one insisted today that census figures were his assurance of growth.

Year by year growth in population, attendant rise in disposable income and the need for banks and insurance companies in a free economy, said William R. Spaulding, furnish a built-in gear for the investment field which is his particular interest.

Spaulding is assistant secretary of Central Shares Trust, a mutual investment fund specializing in diversified managed investment of the common stocks of insurance companies and banks.

"There are no substitutes for banks," Spaulding said, "and people always will want insurance." "Let me illustrate," he went on. "There are about 2.5 to 3 million persons who invest in mutual funds. There are about 15 million who invest in equities of various sorts, according to the latest estimates."

"But there are 120 million persons in this country who have insurance of one kind or another. In 10 years, there have been more than 700 new insurance companies come into existence, until there are about 1,500 now, so you see that we aren't the only ones interested in the insurance field as an investment opportunity." The essential ingredient of growth, Spaulding said, is "plow-back of earnings."

Radio Report on Bomb Tests to Beam at Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Voice of America (VOA) will put together the greatest concentration of radio signals in its history Sunday to tell the Communist bloc about Russia's nuclear tests and the worldwide revulsion they have provoked.

Edward R. Murrow, director of the U.S. Information Agency, announced the 8-hour "Sunday punch."

He said all facilities able to beam a signal behind the Iron Curtain will join the effort. The aim will be to spread the word on what VOA called "Soviet duplicity in polluting the atmosphere by protracted and monstrous nuclear blasting."
